DRY GOODS MARKET.

NEW YORK, August S.—The dry goods market for the day was quiet. Prices were a shade firmer on wide print cloths. Fine white goods are being bought in small volume for spring and prices on the fancy fabrics are the most attractive ever known in the primary market. Buriaps are steady and linens are in a fair demand. Men's wear lines of the higher classes are being bough: in fair quantities. Many large cotton goods buyers are expected here during the coming week to attend the auction sale of cotton goods on Wednesday.

The Day in Wall Street

NEW YORK, August 8.—A strong Saturday closing is generally desired by the leaders of a buil market. The lidea is expressed in the song "Always Leave Them Laughing When You Say Good-By." A strong market at the end of the week is calculated to strengthen confidence in a movement to attract the attention of the public, induce a good feeling and stimulate spirited public buying at the opening of business on Monday. An effort thus to keep the public in good spirits was plainly attempted to-day, but it was rather forced humor, and in the end created a rather pained than joyend created a rather pained than joyend created a rather pained than joyend created a rather traders and created a rather trader and created a rather traders and created a rather trader and created a rather traders and created a rather trader and created a rather pained than joyend from the results of the market on account of that direct market on account of the market on account of th NEW YORK, August 8 .- A strong ing the boat, and found it difficult to
